You know that girl is evil
You know that girl is no damn good
Won't you listen to me when I tell you that She'll take your heart and leave it
Under the blade
She'll cut you good
And when she's walking away she just won't look back

Don't give your loving to her
'Cos she'll steal it the same as she stole mine when She told me it was true love
And she'll laugh and she'll wave and she'll start again

Don't you take her advice
Don't be her sacrifice
She'll erase all of your will
She's a bitter pill
She's evil
She's evil
She's evil
She's evil

We all have hearts for breaking
We all just make the same mistakes
That we keep making over and over again

With all the time it's taking
Come all the gains I can't escape
Don't you start lying to me, I won't know myself

It's easy to be righteous
From some poem way up inside an ivory tower
But be careful you might just
End up falling back down to the cold hard ground

When I don't recognise my soul
And when it's only fear I know
Like a cormorant on a hill
I can feel her still
She's evil
She's evil

She's evil
She's evil

Don't you take her advice
Don't be her sacrifice
She'll erase all of your will
She's a bitter pill
She's evil (oh, she's evil)
She's evil (oh, she's evil)
She's evil (oh, she's evil)
She's evil (oh, she's evil)
She's evil

She'll take your heart and leave it
Under the blade, believe it
She'll take your heart and leave it
Under the blade, believe it
She'll take your heart and leave it
Under the blade, believe it
She'll take your heart and leave it
Under the blade, believe it
She'll take your heart and leave it (Get what you see,
see what you get)
Under the blade, believe it
She'll take your heart and leave it (Get what you see,
see what you get)
Under the blade, believe it
...
(Continues to fade out)
