She fell from grace
Since her tragedy came true
Since then shes been running
Not knowing what to do

You fall away from me
youre always fallen away from
The one you want to be
And the one you love

December was a long year..
Still running from your pain
Besides the walls they find me
And Ive never felt the same Im riddled in these board games
But Im bored with the game

You Fall away from me
youre always fallen away from
The one you want to be
And the one you love

You Fall away from me
youre always fallen away from
The one you want to be
And the one you love

And you fall
and you fall..
fall away
fall away
