I stand
Where no man can reach me
In league with eternity
I am forever

I stand
Where no man can judge me
For I am god
Until eternity ends

Lex maiestatis
Thou hast betrayed me
Thou hast failed
To worship the emperor

I stand
Erected as a phallus
Thrusting in the womb of antiquity
I have overcome damnation

Thou hast murdered my flesh
Thou hast asked to desecrate my dead body
And condemn my memory
That I shall be completely and totally forgotten
Thou hast tried to scatter all of my images
My statues defaced
Thou hast tried to remove my name
From the scriptures
That I may be erased

Thy ignorance shall be awareness
I shall be ever present in the minds of thy children
And in the minds of thy offspring
And generations to come

My reign is never ending
Remembered and hailed as the third emperor
Thou shalt dread me
Even in death
