"Calm As Houses"

She walks backwards through the door,
But you know there will be something in her eyes you'll recognize.
And this nonsense she speaks tells you more of this strange peace you
Never realized.
Calm and safe as houses set off the road.
Calm and safe as houses set off the road.
Wound up so tightly, ready for blast off.
Years of silence and fade outs.
Her climbing words like sundrops entered your soul.
Calm and safe as houses set off the road.
Calm and safe as houses set off the road.
She has eyes in the land of the blind.
Calm and safe as houses set off the road.
