Revolutions come and go
But we'll just have to wait
The time is night to sit and plot
Exactly who you hate

Sirens in the neighborhood
The gun must be misunderstood
A warden in a pool of blood
The palace laugh and so they should
So they should

Across the world in every coup
A thousand guns without a clue
If only all people knew
They've got their sight set up on you

Every war is always cursed
With just who do you shoot at first
Think real hard and think sandhurst
Take an officer he's the worst
He's the worst, he's the worst

Governments will rise and fall
But royalty's still there
Don't worry if it's queen or duke
Try scything down the pair

And if you class the palace staff
As devil's advocate
Just put them in an incubator
And we'll deal with them later
Just a little bit later

We'll deal with you later
We'll deal with you later
Just put them in an incubator
And we'll deal with them later
Just throw them to the alligators
And we'll deal with them later

So be wary of the liquidator
'Cos we'll deal with you later

Just put them in a liquidator
And we'll deal with you later
We'll deal with you later
We'll deal with you later, later
