"You Never Said"

Rejection's like an ice cold bath
But the water's feelin' good this time
And I hate that I misread you boy
But I can't resist no-crossing signs when You're an open invitation to a heartache
A painful kind of good, I should just leave alone but it's too late

I'm right back where I started out
Not a lot to show, just memories
But I took what I could get from you, now I'm off
To fill the void, you see
I got a habit I can't break, so it does all the breaking
And a heart that's slow to heal, cause I fall for the ones
Who are taken

You never said, you never said that I'm your baby
You never said, you never said that I'm the one
You never said you'd try, or that you'd take me or you'd leave me
You just said goodbye, you said goodbye

You never said, you never said that I'm your baby
You never said, you never said that I'm the one
leave me
You just said goodbye, you said goodbye

And you just kept walkin' baby
I couldn't have stopped you if I tried
I was such a fool to think it might have led To something fulfilling baby
And had you been willing maybe I wouldn't have these thoughts runnin' through my head

You never said, you never said that I'm your baby
You never said, you never said that I'm the one
You never said you'd try, or that you'd take me or you'd
leave me
You just said goodbye, you said goodbye

You never said, you never said that I'm your baby
You never said, you never said that I'm the one
You never said you'd try, or that you'd take me or you'd
leave me
You just said goodbye, you said goodbye

You never said, you never said that I'm your baby
You never said, you never said that I'm the one
You never said you'd try, or that you'd take me or you'd
leave me
You just said goodbye, you said goodbye
