here there's snow, varina it's new years eve on the coast there's a girl that i know with mountains in between but when you pick up the phone i'm not there and when you call me at home i'm not there and when you need me the most i'm not there surrounded by mountains, i'm scared (i left the only place i knew...)

cars stop, beware
there's snow
up where cars fall beware, there's snow up there music doesn't need me, i am the smallest sound i throw our own rocks at the top from the bottom the peaks have yet to see me from the ground and the ranges stretch so far i don't think i could climb them all so with a wave of my tiny hand i dismiss those mountains there, they don't exist i never hit the breaks i figure why start now exclerator all the way exclerating all the way down
