eventually i'll have to take them i might break if i don't shake less empty hands, a fire is left cannot quite fight with their own strenght i'm so tired, i'm torn up it's over now
you can make me normal

your eyes are broken
you must lose them
take the pills
kill the delusions
you can see it's time to quit so swallow while you can be fixed i haven't shaken in what feels like forever i have let go of all my old obsessions i am healthy, i am better there's no more songs so when i'm dead and gone i know it won't me the new me they remember but i don't need my eyes to see my eyes have only lied to me recognize the time for quitting and your vision will outlive them all
