I'ma roll you, through my neck of the woods
Through the hood, hustling and living right
Grinding for a grand, pockets getting bigger
Ain't nothing like a Dirty South, H-Town nigga

[Chamillionaire]

Cadillac with the 4's, the paint that's matching the toes
The basketball players baby mamas, and actresses

Make her park while you exit, from out the passenger

You roll with the easy pass, as you pass through the toll
See the police ya ride slow, you don't the faster you go

See the fiends on the corner, itching and after the blow
You incognito, while passing that lil' package of dro
I know I'm not a hustler, also I'm not a customer
I'm also not a snitch, I'm the type you could put ya trust

It's mother nature's fault officer, you should have a grudge with her

Never works, but still you try the excuses

The prints could make you believe, that all of your

So what if you catch a case, still hustle the juices
Fill up his jar with that bar, man this Southern is

(slab)

Do the math, recline in your seat and fall back
You gotta try to blend in, and get your car facts

Belt buckles swangs and bang, that's how we crawl Lac
I'ma get my car waxed, pulling into this liquor sto'
Get in, get the Black Magic and a sip of O.
J. ay, one thang before you hit the do'
Burning off on his ass, you don't know nothing bout
