Hold up, stop the madness, I see the canvas
That body looking like artwork
Every woman got hidden talents
Just search for em like stars search
That don't mean that my hard work
Ending up in your broad purse
If that's the way that she rocking out
Then I'll show up after that concert
Yo accidentally fall into love
That you try to do it on purpose
Hope the one that you say the one
Is worth everything that you purchase
See I say that I never pay,
You can go and research this
And any woman that's on the surf
That don't know our word could be worthless
What about you, you worth the tab?
What about shoes, you worth the bag/
If every woman is worth half
It might not be true but it's worth the laugh
Think back to the last woman
You think could ever run game on me
Make sure you don't hold your breath
While you tryina think up her name homie
The real say I look similar, I'm plotting something more sinister
It's a cold world, if that's your girl
Then my sub zero might finish her
I run for the pressies like senators
Cause they keep escaping like prisoners
She might have to wait if I'm feeling her
But she acting like she ain't chilling, huh?

[Chorus:]

Now you ain't gotta lie to kick it baby
You ain't emp3musicdownload.blogspot gotta lie Ain't convinced yourself that you would love to live this life
You can say I ain't your type, but you know I'm right Now I got you second guessing and it's looking like she might

Show love, show love, show love, show love
Show love, show love, show love, show love
Tonight she might show, might show, might show me
some love
got you second guessing and it's looking like she might show love

I know that you ain't no angel
Plus you ain't wearing no haylow
Oho, oho,
Some pretty women get paid for
But that ain't really my lane though, no, no
Might even drive her own range rove
And look as pretty as J Lo,
I let her know that they ain't go,
Down at the end of that rainbow
You just tryina get done right
We could start with just one night
You can say you wann go keep on call

[Chorus:]
Now you ain't gotta lie to kick it baby
You ain't gotta lie
Ain't convinced yourself that you would love to live this
You can say I ain't your type, but you know I'm right
Now I got you second guessing and it's looking like she
might
Show love, show love, show love, show love
Show love, show love, show love, show love
Tonight she might show, might show, might show me
some love
got you second guessing now it's looking like she
might show love

Just show love, show love, uhu,
Can't pick up my phone,
Cause I'm in my zone, my zone
And nothing can save you now
Nowthing can save you now, mhm
Just leave the lights on,
Just leave the lights on

Uh, it's a thin line between love and war
This a line that you can't ignore
You can say I took long enough
But can't say that I ain't worth waiting for I won't say that it is your fault
Cause one minute I don't call
Then the next minute I'm running to it
Then hop into it like pole vault

I ain't tryina take no loss,
I ain't say you not kind feel
But many try to stop me from shinning
Guess we can see that that went well
Pardon me for my cockiness, but my drop is looking so topless
And I'm wondering if you really think
That you one about to be the opposite

[Chorus:]

Now you ain't gotta lie to kick it baby
You ain't gotta lie
Ain't convinced yourself that you would love to live this
You can say I ain't your type, but you know I'm right
Now I got you second guessing and it's looking like she
might
Show love, show love, show love, show love
Show love, show love, show love, show love
Tonight she might show, might show, might show me
some love
got you second guessing and it's looking like she
might show love.
