She feels like a torso in a sack
Groom is gone, and he ain't coming back
She throws the ring into the kitchen sink
And the black light blinks
That's all she sees

I guess isolation's now my style
You could try to love me for awhile
But you ain't gonna like the thoughts I think
When the black light blinks
That's all I see

Sometimes that's all I see
Sometimes that's all you see
Sometimes that's all we see
And that's cause sometimes that is all there really is
