

Chancellorpink "Chancellor Pink"

Visit "Chancellor Pink" on MotoLyrics.com

i've stripped the walls to white the floors to wood and all to right this room here with chancellor pink it's on the ceiling to look up is appealing at the skyline of chancellor pink each guest is shadowed by my keen and silent marrow as i spy their mood to question what they think and spray the air with chancellor pink paint me down

you have your days planned and you burn them in the waste land under brown fog of another winter's drought but i'm on fire and i'm spinning in a gyre with the color of a life that let's you out and if we must be subject to a certain stately object then i must submit to chancellor pink i must admit to chancellor pink

paint me down

and i'm just knowing that my room will soon be growing 'til the whole house is chancellor pink 'til the whole world is chancellor pink

paint me down

Visit Chancellorpink page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

