Time to stand
time to take a stand i will be a man and no one will tell me otherwise beer in hand everyone deserves a beer once in awhile, dear have no fear, have no fear, have no fear with me here

there was a time when i believed in love she's on my mind again
god help me

patience is the name of the game everyone is playing games everyone lie low, lie low she'll come around, i know and every word he writes in private cause they don't understand him and he will never show them all of the jaded paul

that chorus brought me down why'd you have to bring me down, boy? now i'm thinking of her again

when she sat by the window looking at her hands

and if you think you have him cornered if you think you know this paul (never show them all)

he will climb up over the wall

they run, they run he walks
(i love you paul)
