So you said forever
when you took the ring
take back the words
and forget everything

call up the reverend and cancel the band
who cares if his sister or parents won't understand

family never understand your family
my family
never understand

out of all of your male friends you like me the least
and maybe that's why i speak my piece

you're getting married
still you know your love is dead that is why you dyed your pretty wedding dress red

but you're right
and i'm wrong, and i'm wrong, so
go get married
and your life is all gone

you're right

counting down the days
until the vows are said
you can count the ways
you know your love is dead

fake a fragile smile
to camouflage the mess

disappear in style
in your red wedding dress
