Vinnie van gogh chugged terpine because a whore became unkind syd barrett would have understood me he'd have wanted you to give me a chance syd barrett would have understood me he'd know i never wanted into your pants did i just shout? so sorry dear should i just jump?

syd barrett would have understood me he'd have wanted you to take my hand syd barrett would have held me crying while you were giggling with another man sd barrett would have understood me he'd have made you hear my crazy songs and in spite of all your grand defenses syd, he would have had you singing along there was a room in a suite with a view and a bottle waiting chilled on ice but i put rubber on the walls now, baby, and the bottle's empty cause i drank it twice sip sip sip

in the room with a view staring at the trees, laughing ha ha ha
and i'm never coming back, no i'm never coming

the only thing left to do break another wine glass in my hand, laughing
from my mind
