Often we live for tomorrow
When all we really have is just today
Where did the joy turn into sorrow?
How did we let it all slip away?

I never ever meant to hurt you
Even time can't undo what's been done

How do we mend a broken heart?
How do we find a place to start?
How can we learn to trust each other?
And how do we wipe away the tears?
Or just walk away from all the years
Or can we put it back together?
Asking down on bended knees how do we?

Seems like a hopeless situation
If no one forgives, no one wins
Beyond the pain is our salvation
Change of mind change of heart, change within

I miss your touch and conversation
I miss your simple smile when I awake

So how do we mend a broken heart?

And how do we find a place to start?
How can we learn to trust each other?
And how do we wipe away the tears?
Just walk away from all these years?
Or can we put it back together
Asking down on bended knees how do we?

How do we say good bye
When goodbye is what I don't want to tell you?
And how do we break down all these walls?
How can I leave when I still love you?
To be happy again would be worth it all, yeah, yeah

How do we mend a broken heart?
And how do we find a place to start?
How can we learn to trust each other?

And how do we wipe away the tears?
Just walk away from all these years?
Or can we put it back together
Asking down on bended knees how do we?

Asking down on bended knees how do we?
Down on bended knees how do we?
