Don't you know you're gonna get through this
Oh oh
Yea
Get through this... [repeat]

You dream it every night
And you thinking about it all the time
You're just trying to clear your mind
So many things in life ain't working right
I know that it's tearing you apart
Losing someone so close to your heart
Everybody's saying let it be [let it be]
But it's harder than it seems

[Chorus:]
Trying not to show it
But I know you're hurting baby
Don't you know {don't you know} you're gonna get through this
You Want it, you need it, and I know you're crying lately
Don't you know {don't you know} you're gonna get through this

The day it happened to you
You kept praying that it was a lie
You'd wake up from this nightmare
And he would be back inside your life
Knowing that you'll see him again
Is making it easier for mend
It's been little time to run your heart
And it hurts being apart

[Chorus x2]

This hit and run has moved on
But he stopped your life, you're sentenced too
Watching them burn candles bright
Showing all the love for his life

His cell phone keeps on ringing
From those who reminisce his voice
You are texting him in heaven:

How you doing boy? I'm MISSING YOU!
Seeing his room the way it was Dying as you pack it all up
Trying too hard to push on
But his memory's still not gone

[Chorus x3: extra repeated vocals]
