Fortified from the cries
No need to apologise
We all know that you'll be sleeping well tonight

Hard as stone down to the bone
A face of you fear you can't condone
Emotions now objectified

A friendship sewn but now it's gone
Lesson learnt I'll walk alone
This trust in you was so misplaced

When sympathy is gone
Were left to fend alone
The sympathy society once relied upon
Don't empathise today
Or you'll be labelled as a slave to heart
Don't be ashamed
Be devoid of caring

Now I'm aware, nothing is important anymore, but time

I fear
The chances of us breaking through this
Silence
Are close to less than none

And since the day we're born
We're forced to live a life so cold
It's not alright
It's not okay
That our humanity
Is all dehumanised
