I should've seen it comin'
I should've seen it comin'
I should've seen it comin'

My Sister
Been through it all no one could dis her
Or it was only just how we roll
Swore we'd be that way
'till we were gray and old
Then he came
I fell in love and everything changed
A perfect picture put in a frame
You saw a difference
Said that things won't be the same

(Chorus)
Ohhhh, Girlfriend
I thought you said you were my best friend
So why ya tellin' all my business?
That we were better, but you
Showed me where we stand
Girlfriend
I thought you said you were my best friend
So what you tellin' to my boyfriend?
I thought we were better than to fight over a man

Time passed
Feelings are bubbling like a wine glass
My girl won't call me 'cause of my man
Said we can't hang cause I checked out of the game
But to fix that
She went and pulled some tricks out of the hat
And tried to tell him how i did act
Whenever we'd go hangin' out back in the day

Oh, I thought you'd be happy for me
But instead you're spitting venom
Bein' salty, Oh yeah
How could you put my business in the streets?
I found out what they meant
By your best friend could be your worst enemy

(Repeat Chorus)

Oh, I thought you'd be happy for me
But instead you're spitting venom
Bein' salty, Oh yeah
How could you put my business in the streets?
I found out what they meant
By your best friend could be your worst enemy

"Girlfriend?
Why ya talkin' to my boyfriend?
I thought you was my best friend"
"I know,
But weren't you tellin' to my boyfriend?
We need to talk"
"Hey Girl, why ya talkin' to my boyfriend?"
"I really thought you were my best friend"
"Yeah, but weren't you tellin' to my boyfriend?"
Oh oh oh oh
"You're Busted."
