Re enter this room
Re enter my world
Just drop your bags and stay
Turn your back and stay

Re-adjust my expectations
Re-adjust my concerns
I feel your hands gently
I feel your hands freely

Take in each moment over each inch
As if it were the first, the last, the only

You are so addicting
You never have to leave this room
I am so convincing
I got you to lock that door

You have caught me off guard
You have caught me terrified
But then your eyes calm me
But then your arms calm me

When you go your scent stays
When you go your touch weights
I sense your breath on me
I sense your heart beating

Taking in each moment over each inch
As if it were the first, the last, the only

You are so addicting
You never have to leave this room
I am so convincing
I got you to lock that door
