she's a maid in heaven
he's a night on the tiles a bat out of hell
oh well
its just a matter of style in the two star hotel where breakfast in bed per head is just the price of a smile i know its not easy to live this way just an hour and a fleeting kiss in the morning silent nights of wonders day breaks through the door so broken and torn, reborn two shadows thrown on the floor hold me now politely take the rough with the smooth a token of love my love was made in heaven for you
