You must live to find love
And you'll try many times But your heart is still young And the true love you'll find

You think for true love Your first love of life
But the time will come
When the feeling will pass

Act like a leaf on a windy day pass like the clouds after rain so brush away every tiny tear your love will shine again no more cryin

always think of tomorrow one day you'll look back and be glad for the sorrow oh so yes your life has just begun you'll find yourself another man so brush away all those tiny tears

don't cry don't cry always think of morrow one day you'll look back and be glad for the sorrow and gain strength from the sorrow if you don't think of tomorrow don't think of tomorrow don't think of yesterday the past is just an illusion the future is mass confusion now is all that's real you bring the past out but be in the present if you look at it now thru all of your confusion thru all your confusion you see an illusion the future is a dream the future is never what you may seem it's a dream it doesn't seem like it should seem to be rather than be seem to be rather than be to be rather seem to be seem to rather than be rather. than. seem. to. be
