No u-turns little boy, you've had enough chances. No detours back to me, because honey we're well and truly finished. We've reached our destination, we're done and dusted. I'm warning you, there's no coming back to me. You used me like a ladder my old friend, then you pushed me, the ladder over. There's no coming back down. You used me like a map my old friend, but you've gone too far. I won't get you where you want this time. No u-turns little boy, you've had enough chances.
No detours back to me, because honey we're well and truly finished. We've reached our destination, we're done and dusted. I'm warning you, there's no coming back to me. You didn't stay to do right my old friend, you stayed because you doubted you'd survive. You look at me with such pity in your eyes. I'll let you in on a secret, I was so relieved this time. No u-turns little boy, you've had enough chances. No detours back to me, because honey we're well and truly finished. We've reached our destination, we're done and dusted. I'm warning you, there's no coming back to me.
