I'll follow the wind,
Let it take me home,
I have become someone,
I do not know,
I've fallen in love,
With everyone I see,
What must these strangers,
Think of me.

So I look to the east,
Then I deal with the west,
I'm not gonna loose to this test.

You can do anything you want,
You can do anything you want,
The road is long, the road is full of nails,
But you can, you can do anything you want.

I make no apologies,
If you don't like what you see,
I'm sick of dancing,
To your melody,
It's a long, long show,
But we'll make it through,
What's the point in dreams,
If dreams don't come true,
So I look to the left,
Then I deal with the right,
I'm not gonna loose,
To this fight.

You can do anything you want,
You can do anything you want,
The road is long, the road is full of nails,
But you can, you can do anything you want,
Anything at all,
Anything your heart has been searching for.

You can do anything you want,
So make your life how you want it now,
Do not listen to,
The ones that bring you down,

You're the only one,
But you're not alone,
And your kingdom can be,
Your own home,
You can be anything you want.
