Trains keep rolling, bells are tolling, clocks keep ticking
by.

Leaves are falling fast, I wonder why.

Rivers flowing, never knowing where the current ends

Faces disappear I thought were friends.

Time, they say, is relative... but it's not related to me.

Space, they say, is infinite... it's just an equation to me.

I keep on keeping on until I'm free.

Bodies aching, records breaking, fools keep rushing in Lullabies and alibis won't end.

Liars lying, people dying, trying to make ends meet

Someone sold their soul so they could eat.

Tides, they say, have swept away the treasures now claimed by the sea

Sand, they say, will cover man

His glories will all cease to be.

I keep on keeping on until I'm free.
