As we grow up
We have to learn
That everyone we know
Will let us down

You'll blame a new love
For things of old
For things they'll never know
You once didn't

So maybe you should run
Around the sun
And just pollute the air
Well maybe you should run
Around the sun
With your empty guns
Your empty guns
Your empty guns

As we grow up
We have to learn
That everyone we know
Will let us down

You'll blame a new love
For things of old
For things they'll never know
You once didn't

So maybe you should run
Around the sun
And just pollute the air
Well maybe you should run
Around the sun
With your empty guns
Your empty guns
Your empty guns
