We've got the angst and adrenaline.
The serotonin is gone, acting up again.
Hey tonight, it's a beautiful sight!
Rally the kids, now we're doing alright.

But it's not a riot, though it's due in time.
I can't see that one side of me.
Aggression abounds, and sirens will sound.
And now we're going down.

Burn tonight it's a beautiful sight!
It's in your eyes, burning bright.

We've got the fuel and we've got the light.
Alright! Go set it off, man, we're gonna ignite and I don't think I can make it on my own.

Let's do this now!

I've got a feeling this is our plight.
The company's tight, and we're drinking early times.
It looks like it's going that way.
We'll have one more round, then let it all out.
And now we're going down.
