I woke up kinda sick
The air is getting kind of thick
And Iâ€™m tired of everyone
Like a book on a rainy day
Well itâ€™s too much time in the sun

Have you ever wanted to try
When everythingâ€™s going right by

CHORUS

Donâ€™t need another perfect stranger
Driving me insane
Constantly saying it's time for you to change
(it's time for you to change)
I donâ€™t need another perfect stranger
To shout out from the sky
Explaining the reasons, the meaning of my life
(the meaning of my life)

So when did yes turn into no
Should you stay or should you go
Well youâ€™re always stuck in between

I tried to fake a laugh or two
But my mistakes were all for you
Too much pain it's hard to swallow
Youâ€™ll be there and gone tomorrow

I canâ€™t spend another night or day
I can't hear another word you say
The words you say

CHORUS

Donâ€™t need another perfect stranger
Driving me insane
Constantly saying itâ€™s time for you to change
(time for you to change)
I donâ€™t need another perfect stranger
To shout out from the sky
Explaining the reasons, the meaning to my life
(the meaning to my life)

If not for you
If not for you
We all started strangers
And I know I'm perfect without you
We all started strangers
My world is perfect without you

CHORUS OUT

Don't need another perfect stranger
Driving me insane
Constantly saying it's time for you to change
(it's time for you to change)

I don't need another perfect stranger
Shout out from the sky
Explaining the reasons, the meaning of my life
(the meaning of my life)

Don't need another perfect stranger
Ringing in my ear
Yelling and screaming, I don't wanna hear
(don't wanna hear)

I don't need another perfect stranger
Trying to run my life
Constantly pushing I don't want your advice
