The voices
Crowding around me
The choices
I am forced to make
The power
That I never had
The depression
That i am in

And everything was meant to be great
But it turned out to all be fake
It was all meant to never hurt
But hearts can break forever

The tired
Will always fall
And the wired
Will never call
For retreat
When its nescessary
Heart beat
Will stop(stop)

And everything was meant to be great
But it turned out to all be fake
It was all meant to never hurt

But hearts can break forever
And ever

In the end all will fall
Not a soul will stand
Everyone will turn back
And in the end
All will pay for
Their careless mistakes

And everything was meant to be great
But it turned out to all be fake
It was all meant to never hurt
But hearts can break forever
And everything was meant to be great

But it turned out to all be fake
It was all meant to never hurt
But hearts can break forever

Let the healing begin
