

Chelsea Grin "Rubbin' It In"

Visit "Rubbin' It In" on MotoLyrics.com

Last night, I went out with some old friends.
I couldn't help but to think of you again.
Someone was wearing your cologne.
What a cruel way to remind me that your gone.

A couple danced over by the jukebox.
Hand in hand, I thought they'd never stop.
They played out song again and again.
How could anyone be so insensitive.

Chorus:

They're laughing at me.
I just know it.
As if they knew all along I'd blow it.
Everywhere I turn, something reminds me of the way things were.
I love you, I lost you, I know what a fool I've been.
And it seems like the whole world keeps rubbin' it in.

Every time I turn on the TV.
I comer across one of our favorite movies.
A love story that ends in a kiss,
How'd the cable company get in on this.

I swear I pass your car when I'm on the highway.
Since when did everyone drive red Chevrolets
It never really is your car.
I think some people are taking this a little too far>

Repeat chorus twice

Yeah it seems like the whole world keeps rubbin' it in.

Visit Chelsea Grin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.