Why are we here? A question that no one will ever answer, so think for your fucking self. Don't believe something because someone told you to and don't be scared into living someone else's way. Don't just say the things you're supposed to say. Speak for yourself, and never give that right away. I'm so sick of hearing people say how I should live my life and if I don't follow their rules I will suffer the consequence. I will live the way I want to and there's nothing you can say or do that will change me of the way I think. So save it for someone else. Never be afraid to open up your mind and look at the world through someone else's eyes. This is something you should never forget. If so then it's not really life anymore. Don't just say the things you're supposed to say. Speak for yourself, and never give that right away. Speak for yourself.
