Translation

When we almost stopped during our endless journey
We took a deep sigh

We almost had it but then we lost it
But now there's nothing to be afraid of

The strong bond between our hearts
Will never melt away
We had searched and arrived here

We'll put a Period in this place

A warmth filled with love runs through my body
This memory will never vanish again,

I'll keep my promise and take you there
And put all the dreams and wishes I embrace into song

With the courage to not look away
And stand and face the truth
I'll turn sadness and anger into strength
Destiny is right beside me

Look at what lies beyond
A shining world

This cheer sends shivers up my spine
I won't let you down
For a future in which we live together
I'll put a Period in this place

The truth is at my fingers
