When you find out where youre goin
Let me know
Cause I love you just enough
To let you go

While youre running free and clear
Please dont disappear
When you find out where youre goin
Let me know

When you find out where youre goin
Count me in
And Ill never put you down
For where you been
And Ill join you when you find
That peace within your mind
When you find out where youre goin
Let me know

Im letting go for one night
And I know well be all right
Though he may never come back
When he leaves my bed tonight

When you find out where youre goin
Let me know
And I promise I wont say I told you so
And when the time comes that you say
You finally found your way
Then no matter where you are
Be sure I know
Then no matter where you are Be sure I know
