[music & words: Tuomas Saukkonen]

I gave my speech, I took my stand Draw my marks into the sand
And waited for the tide to wash away my faults

With violence I purify, with rusty nails I crucify
The other one behind the broken mirror on the wall

I take a step towards death, each time little dreamer dies inside
I take a step towards death, each time little dreamer cries inside

The purgatory burns inside, I perish at the stake for crimes
Of other one behind the broken mirror on the wall

Disgrace me and break me
Burn my wings and re-arrange me
Still bleeding and feeding
With blood the angels of decay
