"Sleep Apnea"

There sat a new test
Much harder that you bought in
As for the unseen,
Just take care of what you will
Light the silent alarm
We never think that we're missing much 'til

I gasp and
Hold my breath
These needs have
Changed so deep
To face you all and say
I've been awake for

I need a new test
Then I set out to choose someone to Light the soul like a kiln
Just imagine us chasing this with Eyes scorned from sleep apnea
A slight of tongue
As the seas are emptying

I gasp and
Hold my breath
These needs have
Changed so deep
To face you all and say

I've been awake for Ever,
Ever,
Ever,
Ever

Try to read off a letter
That's falling apart
The sun and the moon
I count sheep
Escape like an animal
I'm ready for my sleepless stroll

I felt these shifting hours

Mistakenly used up

So I gasp and
Hold my breath
These needs have
Changed so deep
To face you all and say
I've been awake for years
I gasp and
Hold my breath
These needs have
Changed so deep
To face you all and say
I've been awake for Ever,
Ever,
Ever,
Ever...
