[music & words: Tuomas Saukkonen]

I gave my speech, I took my stand draw my marks into the sand and waited for the tide to wash away my faults with violence I purify, with rusty nails I crucify the other one behind the broken mirror on the wall

I take a step towards death, each time little dreamer dies inside
cries inside the purgatory burns inside, I perish at the stake for crimes of other one behind the broken mirror on the wall disgrace me and break me burn my wings and re-arrange me still bleeding and feeding with blood the angels of decay
