[music: Tuomas Saukkonen, words: Panu Willman]

step inside in to my room, seems like ages I have waited you one more time in this room like friends moments past a thousand times, we stood frozen from the lies moments past a thousand times once I made my monsters die I can rest my thoughts tonight this what seems to be wrong is right once I made my monsters die

this my friend is to be last of times when I meaning you step aside just to see the reasons selfish thoughts become the needs, prepair what needed to be like new and many times I needed you
