Hey baby
You know there got to be some changes made
Hey baby
You know there got to be some changes made

Well you think you so wise
But I found another dame to take your place

Well you won't cook my breakfast
You won't wash my dirty clothes
Ever time I come home in the evening
You want to flow po me outdoors
I say hey baby
You know there got to be some chages made

Well you think you so wise
But I found another dame to take your place
Your wrong woman
