If you leave this world
With your precious pearl
For a journey to the oldest oceans
You will find the essence of life
Transmission to the other side
You will take your soulmate on a special ride
The ride of the lifetime
You will ascend
When you leave this world
Sounds will be unheard
And you senses sharpen in the wind
The wind blows where the spirits go
The rain falls where the spirits cry
The wind blows where the spirits go
The wind blows where the spirits go
The rain falls where the spirits cry

The wind blows where the spirits go
Transmission from another place
Caught up in Alabama lost in space
The space with no time left
You will descend
When you leave this world
Sounds will be unheard
And you senses sharpen in the wind
The wind blows where the spirits go
The rain falls where the spirits cry
The wind blows where the spirits go
The wind blows where the spirits go
The rain falls where the spirits cry
The wind blows where the spirits go
