Life will be
Like a mystery
Ever changing like the sea
Read the waves
Like a surfer in control
Reading with the soul
From the sea we came
To the sea we will return
As the oceans rise again
In the deepest waters
I will swim away from you
And the tide will bring me home
In the deepest waters
I will swim away from you
And the tide will bring me home
Whales will sing

When they reign another world
Based on recipes of life
Hear their song
Telling you stories untold
Where to find the gold, pure gold
From the sea we came
To the sea we will return
As the oceans rise again
In the deepest waters
I will swim away from you
And the tide will bring me home
In the deepest waters
I will swim away from you
And the tide will bring me home
