Everybody's lost in searching the truth
For living there's nothing to be found, but life
You shine on me
When darkness falls around me
You light my path when no one's there
For me
I'm not looking back at you
When I'm blindfolded and wounded
It hurts me deep to watch you shine
Leaving but emptiness in my heart

Compromise and grow in spirit
Your fate will find you
Your lucky star will shine again
Night will come when day is dying
A dream of morning will rise up within you as hope
You shine on me
When darkness falls around me
You light my path when no one's there
For me
