"Rainbows In The Dawn"

Visit "Rainbows In The Dawn" on MotoLyrics.com

I thought that you should know
True love will always grow
There's more love in a subtle yawn
You've got to take it slow-here comes the dawn!

A gentle stream
You surge to the extreme
You thought your love had gone
Oh if only you would dare to dream

You'll find much more
In the rainbows passing by Then in the muddy desolation of the puddles left behind
Every one should understand the pleasant times surround

They are there
Waiting to be found

I thought that you should know
True love will always grow
There's more love in a subtle yawn
You've got to take it slow-here comes the dawwwwwwwwn!

A gentle stream
You surge to the extreme
You thought your love had gone
Oh if only you would dare to dream
