It's late at night and I'm on the phone,
Talking to a guy I don't know
Laughing out loud cos the things he told me,
Crying inside cos he cannot hold me
Oh Â– it hurts
The time during our talks goes so fast
And between them I don't think I'll last
Don't wanna be friends, you're too deep in my heart
But will this work, we're so far apart?
Oh Â– Here's to hoping

CHORUS

No one else I'd rather see,
But you're too far away
So there's nowhere else I'd rather be
Than at home on the phone talking to the guy I don't know
(But I know him now)
Yeah, no one else I'd rather see,
But you're too far away
So there's nowhere else I'd rather be
Than at home on the phone talking to the guy I don't know
But I know him now
(Yeah I know you now)

Then you break my heart cos you don't phone
Hanging around, sick of being alone
Can't you just dial my number yes it's on speed dial
Sick of waiting, don't you know it's been awhile?
Oh Â– waiting for your call
And I hear your voice, yes you feel the same
Feel that shiver when you hear your name
Keep this quiet, some people don't understand
But tell you now you'll always be my man
Oh Â– if it's not too far

[Chorus x 2]
