Another broken dream
Another memory fades into the night

I can't survive without you here

And take away my heart
Forever this thought, this fills my life

This pain, your smile, worlds apart

So close your eyes
For one last time
Just save your breath
And pray for this

No words can say, that I can see your smile watching
over me
And nothing can say, breathing over and over
Your life is mine

Another broken dream
A memory that's all that's left tonight

This is how I will leave you here

And after all that's lost
A jagged edge that's bound to bleed for life

This ghost, your smile is all that you need

So close your eyes
For one last time
Just say your prayers
And pray for this

No words can say, that I can see you smile watching
over me
And nothing can say, breathing over and over
Your life is mine

I'll bury you down.

One chance, to try
One word, to make that lie
One chance to save your life
One wordâ€¦(One Word)

I'll bury you
