Love, love, love, love, love
Love, love, love, love, love

If you're seeking pearls in an Asian river
You be trading your flesh like an Indian giver
Givin' up things that you thought
You could never do without

And you sense this life but your partner in crime
Is steadily soakin' you up just like the sunshine
But when it rains, man, you're the first to know
'Coz you jumped in to

Love, love, love, love, love

And now your fingers fall off as you're crossin' the street
'Coz they're sick and they're tired of makin' both ends meet
They say, "Don't push me", but you know that's all

And the noise in the forest don't mean damn to me
Unless it happens to be my family tree
'Coz a seed gotta go where a seed got it goin' on into

Love, love, love, love, love
Love, love, love, love, love

And now it's late at night and you're sleepin' in your truck
And even in your dreams you runnin' out of luck
There's a girl in Ohio, she saw a star crawlin'
[Incomprehensible]
Got your nose out there for

Love, love, love
Love, love, love
Love, love, love
