When it's cold, I think of you and things feel like old times

And the laughs we had warm me inside

My mind is at ease

When thinking of you and me

Had a fight on our last go round

No idea my world would come right down

With nothing left to hold

It crazy to know, you'd still be there

And I want you to know, I'll be here till my hair falls out

And shining when the lights burn out

I know it's been while but I can't help smile

When you turn my world upside down

Yes, I know it's been years since we've talked on the phone this long

And didn't say who was wrong

Let's try to make this right

I need some of you in my life

Take some time to reflect on the day that our friendship was set aside

By the words that got mixed up in my mind

A simple flaw is enough to destroy us all

I admit I was wrong, but dragging this out too long

Was enough for me to write this song

And say I'm sorry for all the things I've done.

And I want you to know, I'll be here till my hair falls out

And shining when the lights burn out

I know it's been while but I can't help smile

When you turn my world upside down

Yes, I know it's been years since we've talked on the phone this long

And didn't say who was wrong

Let's try to make this right

I need some of you in my life

When the lights burn out...
