There are times when I fall down
But I always get my feet back on the ground
Oh Lord, please help me, I don't know what to do
I've seemed to lost my passion my first love

But I try so hard, and yet I fail
Don't forget in this world, I'm all alone

Father, take me back
I know there's not much here
But this is all I have
Take my money, my fame
Whatever you want it's yours

Broken like a piece of glass
My head is spinning, I think I tried my last

But I know that this will all blow by
And this will be my last and only cry

There's nothing left to live for
There's nothing left to do
Lord, take me home to you

Remember the memories we shared
Remember the music we sang
Remember my dear I had
Those were the best days in the world

Remember the moments we shared
Remember the good times we knew
Remember the family I had
Those were the best days in the world
