Sunday morning, 2 AM, Iâ€™m lying in my bed I hear a noise outside the room and go to see what it is I open the door and fall to the ground, see him running away
I feel like Iâ€™m getting closer to God, my life is slipping

Iâ€™m ok, Iâ€™m all right, but stay with me anyway
You donâ€™t have to worry, you donâ€™t have to cry Lord please donâ€™t take me away

Sunday morning, 3 AM, Iâ€™m in a different bed
There are bright lights and lots of people looking down on me

My head is hurting, Iâ€™m trying to think, a thousand thoughts are on me
What do I do, what do I say, O Lord, show your grace toward me

I share my story about the Lord to everyone around me
And when Iâ€™m speaking, a child comes in the room Before I go, he walks to me and says a prayer to God Now I know that all this time, it was a blessing in disguise
