Verse 1:

I've been in this place a thousand times.
And to walk away never crossed my mind.
But there's a dream buried deep down in my soul.
I'm gonna take that road and see how far it goes.

Chorus:

California here I'm coming.
I hope you got what I've been searching.
I've been waiting all my life for a chance like this.
I left the keys to the house by the coffee cup,
With a note you can read when ever you wake up.
And if you get a chance can you remember me when
I'm gone.

Verse 2:

It's the pain that lives so deep inside.
I could let it out but I always hide.
So here we are just like I always knew.
Separated by a broken hearted move

Chorus:

California here I'm coming.
I hope you got what I've been searching.
I've been waiting all my life for a chance like this.
I left the keys to the house by the coffee cup,
With a note you can read when ever you wake up.
And if you get a chance can you remember me when
I'm gone.

Chorus:

California here I'm coming.
I hope you got what I've been searching.
I've been waiting all my life for a chance like this.
I left a place in my heart that's just for you,
And I'll never forget the things you'd do
In another life that seems so far away when I'm gone.
