Iâ€™ve been searching, for what seems like all my life
For that something, to end my pain and strife Iâ€™m tired of hurting, tired of being all alone
I hear you call Lord, I hear you call me home

Iâ€™m always worried, as if I donâ€™t have control
My mind is empty, and I canâ€™t feel my soul
I need your touch now, I give to you my heart
For a chance at life Lord, a brand-new start

And I need you, more than anything
And I want you, with all my heart
And I promise, Iâ€™ll give you everything

â€™Cause I love you, you are my king

I see my friends now, they see that things have changed
I canâ€™t return through, the things I love are rearranged
But how am I different, I still desire to live that way
But God is faithful, get on your knees and pray

I call to you Lord, it seems that I am losing hope Iâ€™m quickly reaching, the ending of my rope Hold me close God, I know that you will get me through â€™Cause your work is life, and every promise you made is true
